Panama City Is To Host F F Bureau

Two members of the Everglades Farm Bureau and farm leaders from throughout the state representing over 33,000 farm families in Florida took part in the 22nd annual convention of the Florida Farm Bureau Federation in Panama City November 10-12. Northwest Florida Counties served as gracious host to approximately 750 Farm Bureau members who attended this meeting.

The local delegation played an important part in the formulation of official Farm Bureau policies for the coming year.

The most important function of the annual Farm Bureau convention was the formulation of official programs, based on resolutions from the organization's 64 county units.

FFBF President E. H. Finlayson of Greenville presided over the three-day convention, featuring such outstanding speakers as Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation; United States Senator Spessard L. Holland; Congressman Don Fugate; Secretary of State Tom Adams and Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner.

Delegates representing Everglades Farm Bureau were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stokes and Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Waggoner.

Fresh Oranges Get Advertising Push

LAKE LAND—Monday, Nov. 25, marked the inauguration of a special two-week promotion for fresh oranges by the Florida Citrus Commission. The promotion will be backed up by television and magazine advertising as well as new point-of-purchase posters.

The promotion, which announces the arrival in quantity of Florida fresh oranges on the market, also is expected to gain considerable backing from newspaper advertising by retail food stores.

Recent issues of Life, Saturday Evening Post and Ladies Home Journal paved the way for the fresh orange announcement with a two-page advertisement in four colors that proclaimed that Florida fresh citrus is back in the markets.

Television support during the promotion will be supplied by one-minute spot commercials on two CBS daytime programs. Merchandising kits have also been distributed by the commission to retail stores for use at point-of-purchase. The display material stresses the fact that "nothing takes the place of fresh orange juice."

The dolphin is usually referred to as a porpoise, but actually is not, says Capt. Bill Gray of Miami Seagrass. "Porpoise" refers to members of the dolphin family which have spade-shaped teeth, triangular dorsal fin and no beak.

Half Billion Spent For 1962 Schooling

Floridians spent $499,400,000 in tax monies for public education at all levels during the 1962 fiscal year, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reported yesterday in its Weekly Business Review.

"This education total was up one percent over the previous year while expenditures for education throughout the nation moved up 7 percent," the Review pointed out.

"Monies spent for public universities, junior colleges and local schools by the state and all local governments are included in the Florida figure. It also includes those federal funds spent under school lunch and vocational education programs and impacted area aids in Florida. Not covered are educational grants to private schools or individuals."

"The Florida total figures out to $92 for every resident of the state, a drop of 3 per cent below 1961. The comparable national average last year was $118, up 5 percent. Florida's rank among the 50 states in per capita expenditure for public education was 44."

"State universities and public junior colleges received $73,900,000 last year, a gain of 6 percent while the national figure moved up 13 percent. Florida public schools received $412,800,000, up a fraction compared with a 5 percent gain nationally. The expenditure for schools for the handicapped and for other special education in Florida came to $12,700,000, about the same as in 1961."

"New buildings and equipment at public universities and colleges in the state last year accounted for $13,900,000 (down 16 per cent) and $65,700,000 was spent for new elementary and high schools, a drop of 4 percent. These amounts for capital outlay are included in

Cub Scout Plans Made Canal Point

Does your boy want to become a cub scout? If so, you are urged to attend a meeting at the Community Center in Canal Point, Monday, December 2nd at 8:00 p. m. The number of parents present at this meeting will determine if Canal Point is to have a Cub Scout Pack.

Cub Scouting is a program for boys 8 through 10 years old. Its purpose is to build character, citizenship and mental and physical fitness. Cub Scouting is designed so the boys can have fun—fun with a purpose for the whole family. The family must decide whether or not a boy becomes a Cub Scout and if he does it becomes a family responsibility. Cub Scouting is home centered.

The meeting Monday will be to organize the pack committee and start preparing the application for charter. Parents who have not attended a training session before will be expected to attend one at a later date in order to qualify for their son to be a Cub Scout. The date for this later training meeting will be set Monday night if enough parents are interested for a pack to be formed. Boys cannot join until their parents have had this training. If parents are invited, but do not attend, must participate in the meetings.

The boys will not be needed at these meetings. It is for the adults. They will attend their meetings on the afternoon after the parents are organized and the parents are trained. Come prepared to help run the pack. It will be your pack.

Oranges Bringing Tip-Top Prices

ORLANDO — Checks totaling nearly $2.5 million were recently mailed to members of Florida Orange Marketers, Inc. by Minute Maid Co. as partial payments for fruit in the 1962-63 pools.

The payments included more than $1 million for early and mid-season fruit and nearly $1.4 for Valencia. To date, according to a Minute Maid spokesman, the company has paid more than $22 million for all varieties in the 1962-63 pools.

Minute Maid has predicted that if the industry pricing remains stable, the average return for fruit in the 1962-63 Florida Orange Marketers pools will surpass the previous all-time high average for their 1957-58 fruit.

Belle Glade Wins Annual Game 7-6

In the annual Thanksgiving eve football game, played this year in Belle Glade, the Golden Rams defeated the Pahokee Blue Devils by a score of 7-6. The Pahokee eleven was out in front for more than three-quarters of the game but a determined Golden Ram squad came from behind to chalk up a touchdown and extra point for the win.

It was the second straight unbeaten season for the defending champ Rams and their 23rd consecutive game without a loss. But they must share this year's crown with Vero Beach, which wound up Wednesday night by defeating Dan McCarty of Fort Pierce, for an unbeaten season of its own.

I don't believe anyone could give you a reliable estimate of the numbers of cats and dogs in Florida today. You can bet, however, that there must be a lot of them if the amount of pet food sold in the state is any criterion.

Our Department records show that sales of canned pet foods in Florida for the first six months of this year totaled 18,827 Tons. And that doesn't include the volume of dry pet foods packed in boxes and bags.

Our regulation of commercial feeds includes registration of all pet foods sold in the state and periodic analyses of samples. Our analyses are made to learn whether ingredients conform with the statement made on the label.

"Flavored" pet foods are being offered by a number of manufacturers. Flavors include beef, liver, chicken, fish, etc. Examination of some label statements reveals that there may be only a small amount—sometimes infinitesimal—of the flavoring material in the food.

The word "LIVER" for instance may appear in large letters on the can, but "flavor" is in much smaller type size.

From this a purchaser may be led to believe liver is the main ingredient. Instead, it sometimes is number 6, 7 or 8 among the ingredients which must be listed in their descending order of predominance.

The subject of flavor claims on labels for pet foods was considered this year at the annual conference of American Feed Control Officials. No decision was reached on a policy for uniformity of labeling statements and the matter was put over for a year.

Florida contends a flavor ingredient should be predominant and receive top billing on the ingredient listing. Our position has the backing of Texas and Utah and some other states. Some states, however, have no objection to the present methods of flavor labeling.

The whole matter will be taken up at an interim meeting of control officials at Chicago next May to propose an official policy to be acted on at the 1964 annual conference in August.

In the meantime, pet food manufacturers have been informed Florida will question any "flavor" claims. The products may continue to be sold in the state but we ask for some additional information, especially whether a taste test certification has been obtained from a recognized testing laboratory.

Some states are getting pretty tough in handling the "truth in packaging" problem which has been the subject the past few years of proposed legislative action by Congress.

In Arkansas a new law authorizes inspection in food stores to check on accuracy of listed weights and prices of packaged commodities. In no case can a declaration of quantity be qualified by the addition of the words "when packed" or other wording of similar meaning.

Furthermore, units of weight or measure cannot be supplemented by such terms as "jumbo" or "giant" so as to exaggerate the amount of the commodity.

New York state has a law requiring labels on stuffed frozen turkeys to state the net weight of the bird, net weight of the stuffing and total weight of both.

The nation's two largest meat packers, Swift and Armour, have challenged the law, contending the U. S. Department of Agriculture, which regulates food commodities moving in interstate commerce, will not permit labeling to comply with the New York statute.

Jimmy Hoffa's plans to get pay raises in a nationwide contract for his Teamsters Union has been estimated to boost costs to the trucking industry by $900,000 a day.

That reminded me of an ad in one of our Florida metropolitan newspapers for applicants to train as truck drivers. "Earn $9,000 to $16,000 a year as a semi-driver," the ad stated.

Then I turned to a recent report on a survey of incomes in 1962 among 7,600 teachers of engineering at colleges and universities. Their average salary: dean, $16,173; department head, $13,302; professor, $12,305; associate professor, $9,303; assistant professor, $7,588; lecturer, $6,982; instructor, $5,763. The average for all 7,600 respondents was $9,521.

A message from the Treasury of a free people

How to speak out for freedom today

Free men have never gone in much for silence. Even before the first thirteen States became United States, men were speaking for freedom loud and clear.

Today Americans speak out for freedom many ways—in Congress, in local government, in neighborhood activities. Some speak out for freedom in other languages, in other lands. And millions of Americans speak out for freedom every time they buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Every Savings Bond you buy is an investment in freedom. While you're saving money for your own family's future, you're helping Uncle Sam tend to the business of keeping men free today.

Perhaps you don't speak out for freedom in the same tone of voice when you buy a Bond as Patrick Henry did in his famous speech. But you speak every bit as surely. And every bit as proudly.

Why not speak out for freedom now? Buy Bonds at the bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Keep freedom in your future with

New $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to $2\frac{1}{2}\%$ for the first year and a half; then a guaranteed 4% each year to maturity.

Q: When did the new rate become effective?

A: June 1, 1959.

Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?

A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra $\frac{1}{4}\%$ from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.

Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?

A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.

Q: When my E Bonds mature, will they keep on earning interest?

A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.

Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?

A: No. The automatic 10-year increase makes it unnecessary—and in almost every case it is to your advantage to retain your present Bonds.

Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?

A: The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest-egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?

A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).

H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.

Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the cash value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.

Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?

A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.

Q: Where can I buy Bonds?

A: Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few minutes. Buy them automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This Plan means you can have any amount you name automatically deducted every payday. The Bonds you buy by installments are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.

Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Peace costs money—money for military strength and for peace. And money saved by individuals helps keep our economy sound.

YOU SAVE MORE THAN MONEY WITH U. S. SAVINGS BONDS

Seaboard Quits Stop At 4 Cities

TALLAHASSEE — Seaboard Airline Railroad Corp. has been authorized to curtail passenger train services to four south-central cities in an order issued today by the Florida Public Utilities Commission.

Cities where the Silver Star, a crack Seaboard passenger train, has been authorized to discontinue stops are West Lake Wales, Okechobee, and Indiantown. Both Silver Star and Silver Meteor stops at Auburndale may be discontinued, the Commission order said.

Requests to discontinue Silver Meteor service to Lake Worth and Indiantown were denied by the Commission, which approved the other requests subject to readjustment in case of strong public complaints.

After the authorized changes have been made, Auburndale, will still have three trains stopping daily, West Lake Wales, Okechobee five and Indiantown four.

Commission Chairman Edwin L. Mason and Commissioners Jerry W. Carter and Wilbur C. King said that adverse comments from through passengers on the Seaboard trains, and the lack of local passenger use were strong factors in the decision to approve the Seaboard requests.
